

EMOJIs and the Missionary Journeys of Paul – Galatians Chapter 2 questions

After reading the introduction to chapter two of Galatians, I want you to be honest and ask yourself this question: do you consider yourself a leader or a follower? Share your answer and why you chose it:

Read Galatians 2:1-2 and the study note for 🤔 Galatians 2:2. We are all running. But, based on the study note, we can only run one of two ways. Which way are you running when it comes to God?

Give some real life examples of how you know you are running in the direction you shared in the last question.

Read Galatians 2:6-10. In verse nine and in the study note for 👍 Galatians 2:9, it talk about the “pillars”. Pillars keep a building from falling down around you. In this case, the pillars were people of great faith. Who are people in your world that you would consider pillars? If you don’t have anyone in your life like that, who would you consider a pillar based on what you know about other people in this world?

In Galatians 2:10, Paul shares about something that he is “zealous”. Zealous here means “eagerly desire to do”. What are some things in your life that you are zealous about doing, personally?

What was Paul eager to do according to verse ten?

Now read the study note for 😊 Galatians 2:10. What are some things you could be devoted to do, and would be eager (zealous) to do for God? How do these match up with the things you were zealous about doing earlier in the study?

Now read Galatians 2:11-14. Paul calls out Peter for not living the right way in front of others and before God. You have just shared about the things you are excited about doing, the things you should be excited about doing for God, and how those two relate to each other. Read the study note for 😡 Galatians 2:14. Knowing all of this, would you say you are living more as Paul did so others can see God through you? Or, are you living more as Peter did to fit in with the crowd? Share some examples:

Now read Galatians 2:15-21 and the study note for 😨 Galatians 2:21. Is your life focusing on following every rule or following others in the things they do that are not of God? Or, are you living and leading every day so others can see God living through you? Tell us why you chose your answer and how you can make changes to show others that your desire is to lead by living as if God is first in your life:
